About UNDP: UNDP is the UN's global development network, advocating for change and connecting countries to knowledge, experience and resources to help people build a better life. We are on the ground in 177 countries and territories, working with them on their own solutions to global and national development challenges. UNDP's main goal is to help countries build their own local capacity to achieve sustainable human development - to improve people's lives on an enduring basis - their work, their education, their health, their surroundings and their use of natural resources.
